We were pleased to see those of you who attended today:

Announcements:

Randy Ziegler spoke about Project Bloom and noted that collections for Project Bloom will be taken at our May 1 and 8 meetings.

Frank Sayer is at home and is progressing with rehabilitation.

Jack Forsyth is at home and is progressing with rehabilitation.

Vern Tryon reminded us that this year's "Annual Pancake Breakfast" (Sunday, May 6) will be held at the Oswego High School and urged us to sell our tickets.

Today's Program: John Fitzgibbons introduced Ed Gosek, Head Coach of Oswego State's Division III 2007 Hockey Champions and recently named "Division III Coach of the Year" by the American Hockey Coaches Association (ACHA). Ed noted that he owes much of his success to a number of individuals, among them the Oswego State hockey coaches who preceded him: George Crowe, Herb Hammond, Don Unger, and George Roll. He also gave thanks to Pete Sears, who has helped a great deal with Ed's goalies, and Mike Cullinan, President of the Booster Club. According to Ed, the life of a Division III hockey coach consists primarily of practice, traveling, recruiting, and teaching – with the academic activities comprising a greater percentage of time than the actual "X's and O's" of coaching. He stresses three priorities to his players, in the following order: academic, athletic, and social. Approximately 2/3 of his players are Canadian, and 1/3 are American. More important, stated Ed, is that about 2/3 of his players have a GPA of 3.0 or above. Congratulations on a fantastic season, Ed, and thanks for sharing your thoughts with us today!
